GENERAL INFORMATION

Il segreto di una frenata sicura sta anche nelle pastiglie

Brembo, leader mondiale dei freni, integra la propria offerta con una gamma completa di pastiglie ad elevate prestazioni, risultato di una tecnologia d'avanguardia volta a migliorare la sicurezza dell'intero sistema frenante. Con un'ampia varietà di mescole, dalle sinterizzate alle carbon-ceramiche, e un elevatissimo numero di codici prodotto, Brembo soddisfa le specifiche esigenze di tutti i tipi di moto – da competizione, strada, città, off-road – e le aspettative di tutti i piloti. Le mescole normalmente utilizzate negli impianti frenanti sono classificabili in due sole famiglie, ORGANICHE e SINTERIZZATE e l'impiego di un tipo piuttosto che l'altro non è assolutamente legato all'utilizzo: esistono infatti pastiglie freno di diversa tipologia nel medesimo campo di utenza.

Materiali sinterizzati
Sono composti di polveri metalliche, con aggiunte di lubrificanti ed abrasivi che vengono agglomerati tra loro attraverso un processo con pressione e temperature elevate. La mescola si fissa al supporto metallico della forma voluta durante il processo di sinterizzazione senza aggiunta di alcun collante. Le polveri metalliche determinano quanto frena la pastiglia e quanto è stabile a temperature elevate; i lubrificanti concorrono nella stabilità complessiva della frenata, gli abrasivi tengono puliti i dischi.

Materiali Carbon Ceramici
Sono prevalentemente composti di resine, metalli, lubrificanti e abrasivi. In questa configurazione, il coefficiente di attrito è generato dai metalli e dalle resine, mentre lubrificanti e abrasivi svolgono la funzione sopra descritta per le mescole sinterizzate.

Scelta della mescola
Le pastiglie hanno un loro campo d'applicazione. Questo dipende dalle diverse situazioni che una pastiglia freno deve affrontare: racing – privilegia la frenata ad alte temperature, strada – elevata stabilità, frenate a freddo e a medie temperature. Brembo ha una risposta per ogni esigenza.

Rodaggio
È importantissimo per tutte le mescole e addirittura fondamentale per la mescola RC. Questa operazione si completa effettuando una serie di frenate leggere, lasciando tempo tra una e l'altra. Si compie così un corretto ciclo termico di riscaldamento e raffreddamento dell'impianto. Il periodo di rodaggio dipende dal tipo di mescola: rodaggio più lungo per le organiche rispetto alle sinterizzate.

Le prestazioni delle mescole, molto diverse tra loro, sono descritte attraverso i seguenti parametri: l'efficienza (cioè quanto la pastiglia frena) viene espressa attraverso il coefficiente d'attrito medio e la stabilità dell'attrito alle principali grandezze che caratterizzano la frenata (velocità, decelerazione, temperatura). Viene rilevata attraverso opportune prove al banco e su veicolo.
L'usura: è espressa come la quantità di materiale d'attrito usurato (in mm. di spessore oppure in volume) rispetto al numero di frenate effettuate (banco) oppure di Km. percorsi (veicolo).
Le differenze funzionali tra le varie mescole si possono riassumere osservando i grafici proposti, relativi al coefficiente d'attrito in funzione della temperatura d'esercizio: si nota che la mescola RC (organico Racing, pag.16) dove 350 – 450°C. di temperatura d'esercizio possono essere considerati condizioni normali, possiede un coefficiente d'attrito a caldo molto elevato, mentre le mescole stradali (come appunto è la SA sinterizzato stradale, pag.18) sono progettate per funzionare al meglio a medie/basse temperature, e precisamente attorno ai 300°C.
Quindi queste ultime, se utilizzate in pista e quindi sollecitate oltre misura, risentiranno dell'effetto di "fading" e cioè il degrado del coefficiente d'attrito: infatti, oltre una certa temperatura, tenderanno a perdere efficienza.
Al contrario, utilizzando mescole Racing su strada (e quindi con i dischi freddi), il grip non sarà così buono e si potrà avere la frenata un po' lunga. Le mescole intermedie sono naturalmente un compromesso tra queste situazioni descritte, forniranno prestazioni buone in tutte le condizione pur non eccellendo ai due capi estremi del range di temperatura d'esercizio.

The secret of safe braking lies in the brake pads

Brembo, world leader when it comes to brakes, enhances its product range with a complete selection of high-performance brake pads that use pioneering technology to boost the safety of the entire braking system. With a wide range of mixtures, from sintered to carbon-ceramic, and a huge number of product codes, Brembo meets the specific needs of every type of motorbike - be it racing, on-road, city, off-road - and the expectations of every rider. The mixtures normally used in braking systems can be classified in just two groups - ORGANIC and SINTERED, and the preference for one rather than the other isn't linked in any way to how the bike is used: in fact different types of brake pads exist for the same type of bike.

Sintered materials
They're made up of metallic powders with the addition of lubricants and abrasives combined by means of a process using pressure and high temperatures. The mixture adheres to a metallic support (of the required shape) during the sintering process, without the need for any type of bonding agent. The metallic powders determine the braking capacity of the pad, and how stable it is at high temperatures; the lubricants contribute to the overall stability of the braking action, while the abrasives keep the brake discs clean.

Carbon-ceramic materials
These consist mainly of resins, metals, lubricants and abrasives.
In this configuration, the coefficient of friction is generated by the metals and resins, while the lubricants and abrasives fulfil the role described above for sintered mixtures.

Choosing the mixture
Brake pads have their own field of application. This depends on the various situations that a pad has to deal with: racing (calling for high-temperature braking), or road use (requiring high stability, with braking at cold and medium temperatures). Whatever the need, Brembo has the answer.

Breaking in
IS extremely important for all the mixtures, but it's vital in the case of an RC mixture. This operation is completed by making a series of light braking actions, with a gap between them. This produces a correct thermal cycle of system heating and cooling. The breaking in time depends on the type of mixture: it's longer for organic ones than for sintered ones.

The performance of the mixtures differs greatly one from the other, and is explained via the following parameters: efficiency (the braking capacity of the pad), which is expressed in terms of the average friction coefficient, and friction stability in relation to the main braking values (speed, deceleration, temperature). Performance figures are measured by means of bench tests and tests on the vehicle itself.
Wear is measured as the amount of consumed friction material in mm (i.e. thickness) or in volume in relation to the number of braking actions made (bench tests) or km travelled (tests on the vehicle).
The functional differences between the various mixtures are summed up by the charts showing the friction coefficient on the basis of the working temperature. Note that the RC mixture (organic Racing, page 16), where a working temperature of 350 - 450°C can be considered normal) has a very high hot friction coefficient, whereas road mixtures (like the SA sintered Road, page 18) are designed to work best at low/medium temperatures around 300°C.
This means that the latter, if used on the track and therefore subjected to excessive strain, will produce a "fading" effect - in other words, the degradation of the friction coefficient. Beyond a certain temperature in fact, they tend to become less efficient.
On the contrary, the use of Racing mixtures on the road (which means with cold pads) results in a longer braking action because the grip isn't so good.
Intermediate mixtures are, of course, a compromise between the two situations described above. They offer good performance in all conditions, without excelling at the two extremes of the working temperature range.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Brembo, leader mondial des systèmes de freinage, étoffe son offre avec une gamme complète de plaquettes de frein hautes performances, expressément développée pour améliorer la sécurité intrinsèque du système de freinage grâce aux avancées technologiques mises en œuvre. Avec une grande variété de matériaux de friction, du fritté au carbone-céramique, et un grand nombre de références, Brembo répond aux besoins spécifiques de tous les types de motos (compétition, route, ville, tout-terrain) et aux attentes de tous les pilotes. Les matériaux de friction normalement utilisés dans les systèmes de freinage peuvent être classés en deux familles seulement, ORGANIQUES et FRITTÉS, et l'utilisation d'un type plutôt que l'autre n'est en rien liée à l'usage : il existe en effet des plaquettes de frein de types différents dans le même domaine d'utilisation.

Matériaux frittés
Ils sont constitués de poudres métalliques auxquelles sont ajoutés des lubrifiants et des abrasifs et qui sont agglomérées par un processus à haute pression et à haute température. Le matériau de friction est fixé au substrat métallique de la forme souhaitée pendant le processus de frittage, sans ajout d'adhésif. Les poudres métalliques déterminent l'intensité du freinage de la plaquette et sa stabilité à haute température ; les lubrifiants contribuent à la stabilité générale du freinage, les abrasifs assurent la propreté des disques.

Matériaux en carbone-céramique
Ils sont principalement composés de résines, de métaux, de lubrifiants et d'abrasifs. Dans cette configuration, le coefficient de frottement est généré par les métaux et les résines, tandis que les lubrifiants et les abrasifs remplissent la fonction décrite ci-dessus pour les composés frittés.

Choix du matériau de friction
Les plaquettes ont leur propre champ d'application. Cela dépend des différentes situations auxquelles une plaquette doit faire face : compétition – elle favorise le freinage à haute température, route – grande stabilité, freinages à froid et à moyennes températures. Brembo a une réponse pour chaque besoin.

Rodage
Il très important pour tous les matériaux de friction voire fondamental dans le cas du matériau de friction RC. Cette opération s'effectue en exécutant une série de freinages légers, espacés d'un certain temps. Cela permet d'achever le cycle thermique de chauffage et de refroidissement du système. La période de rodage dépend du type de matériau de friction : elle est plus longue pour les matériaux organiques que pour les matériaux frittés.

Les performances des matériaux de friction, qui sont très différentes, sont décrites par les paramètres suivants :
L'efficacité (c'est-à-dire la capacité de freinage de la plaquette) est exprimée par le coefficient de frottement moyen et la stabilité du frottement aux principales grandeurs qui caractérisent le freinage (vitesse, décélération, température). Elle est mesurée par des essais appropriés sur banc et sur véhicule. L'usure est exprimée par la quantité de matériau de friction usé (en mm d'épaisseur ou en volume) par rapport au nombre de freinages effectués (banc) ou de km parcourus (véhicule). Les différences fonctionnelles entre les différents matériaux de friction peuvent être résumées en observant les graphiques proposés, relatifs au coefficient de frottement en fonction de la température de fonctionnement : on constate que le matériau RC (organique Racing, page 16), pour lequel une température de fonctionnement de l'ordre de 350 à 450 °C peut être considérée comme normale, a un coefficient de frottement très élevé à chaud, tandis que les matériaux de friction pour route (tels que le SA fritté pour route, page 18) sont conçus pour fonctionner au mieux à des températures moyennes/basses, et précisément aux alentours de 300 °C. Ces derniers, s'ils sont utilisés sur piste et donc excessivement sollicités, subiront donc l'effet de « fading », c'est-à-dire la dégradation du coefficient de frottement : en effet, au-delà d'une certaine température, ils auront tendance à perdre de leur efficacité. À l'inverse, en utilisant les matériaux de friction Racing sur route (et donc avec des disques froids), l'adhérence sera moins bonne et le freinage pourra être un peu long. Les matériaux de friction intermédiaires sont bien sûr un compromis entre les situations décrites ; ils offriront de bonnes performances dans toutes les conditions, sans pour autant exceller aux deux extrémités de la plage de température de fonctionnement.

Brembo, Weltmarktführer für Bremssysteme, hat sein Produktangebot um ein vollständiges Sortiment an Hochleistungs-Bremsbelägen erweitert, die das Ergebnis wegweisender Technologie sind und darauf abzielen, die Sicherheit des gesamten Bremssystems zu verbessern. Dank der großen Auswahl an Belagmischungen, von Sinter- bis zu Carbon-Keramik-Mischungen, und der nahezu kompletten Anwendungsliste ist Brembo in der Lage, die spezifischen Anforderungen aller Arten von Motorrädern – von Racing-, Road- und Off-Road-Motorrädern – sowie die Ansprüche aller Fahrer zu erfüllen. Bei den üblicherweise in Bremsanlagen verwendeten Belägen lassen sich zwei Typen unterscheiden, ORGANISCHE BELÄGE und SINTERBELÄGE. Die Verwendung dieser beiden Typen ist jedoch nicht einsatzgebunden: Es können verschiedene Bremsbelagtypen für denselben Anwendungsbereich eingesetzt werden.

Sintermischungen
Sie bestehen aus Metallpulvern mit zugesetzten Schmierstoffen und Schleifmitteln, die durch hohen Druck und hohe Temperaturen miteinander verpresst werden. Die Mischung wird während der Sinterung ohne Verwendung von Klebstoffen auf einer Trägerplatte aus Metall mit der gewünschten Form fixiert. Die Metallanteile bestimmen die Bremskraft des Belags und wie stabil er bei hohen Temperaturen ist; die Schmierstoffe tragen zur Bremsstabilität bei, während die Schleifmittel die Bremsscheiben sauber halten.

Carbon-Keramik-Mischungen
Sie bestehen hauptsächlich aus Harz als Bindemittel, Metallen, Schmierstoffen und Schleifmitteln.
In diesem Fall wird der Reibbeiwert durch die Metalle und Harze erzeugt, während die Schmierstoffe und Schleifmittel die obengenannte Funktion für Sinterrmischungen erfüllen.

Wahl der Mischung
Bremsbeläge haben ihren idealen Anwendungsbereich, der von den unterschiedlichen Einsatzsituationen abhängt: Racing – Fokus auf höchste Bremsleistung bei hohen Temperaturen. Road – Fokus auf hohe Bremsstabilität bei Bremsungen vom Start an bzw. bei Bremsungen bei mittleren Temperaturen. Brembo hat die richtige Lösung für jede Anforderung.

Einfahren
Alle Mischungen erfordern sorgfältiges Einfahren, dies gilt jedoch besonders für die Mischung RC. Dieser Vorgang besteht aus mehreren Bremsungen mit leichtem Druck sowie Kühlphasen zwischen den einzelnen Bremsungen. Auf diese Weise wird ein korrekter thermischer Erwärmungs- und Abkühlungszyklus der Bremsanlage durchgeführt. Die Einfahrzeit hängt von der Belagmischung ab: organische Beläge müssen länger eingefahren werden als Sinterbeläge.

Die stark voneinander abweichenden Bremseigenschaften der verschiedenen Mischungen werden durch die folgenden Parameter definiert: Die Bremswirkung (d. h. wie stark der Bremsbelag verzögert) wird durch den mittleren Reibbeiwert und die Reibwertkonstanz bei den wichtigsten Größen, welche die Bremsung bestimmen (Geschwindigkeit, Verzögerung, Betriebstemperatur), definiert. Sie wird am Bremsprüfstand und in Fahrversuchen am Fahrzeug ermittelt. Verschleiß: dieser entspricht dem verbrauchten Reibmaterial (in mm-Stärke oder in Volumen) im Verhältnis zur Anzahl der (am Bremsprüfstand) durchgeführten Bremsungen oder zur Kilometerleistung (Fahrzeug). Die funktionellen Unterschiede zwischen den verschiedenen Mischungen können in den Grafiken für den Reibbeiwert im Verhältnis zur Betriebstemperatur erkannt werden: Die Mischung RC (Racing/Organisch, Seite 16), bei der 350-450 °C Betriebstemperatur als normale Bedingung angesehen werden kann, besitzt einen sehr hohen Reibbeiwert bei hohen Betriebstemperaturen, während die Mischungen für den Straßeneinsatz (wie die SA Sinter/Straße, Seite 18) sich am besten zum Einsatz bei niedrigen/mittleren Temperaturen, genauer gesagt bei etwa 300 °C, eignen. Das bedeutet, dass die letztgenannten Mischungen, falls sie auf der Rennstrecke eingesetzt und damit über Gebühr beansprucht werden, von starkem Fading, d. h. Reibwertverlust betroffen sind und oberhalb einer gewissen Temperatur zunehmend an Bremswirkung einbüßen. Umgekehrt kann sich beim Einsatz von Racing-Mischungen auf der Straße (also bei vorwiegend kalten Bremsscheiben) kein hoher Grip aufbauen, wodurch sich der Bremsweg verlängert. Die mittleren Mischungen stellen natürlich stets einen Kompromiss für die beschriebenen Situationen dar, d. h. sie bieten gute Leistungen über einen breiten Anwendungsbereich, fallen jedoch bei den Betriebstemperatur-Extremen (kalt/heiß) etwas ab.

GENERAL INFORMATION

El secreto de una frenada segura son también las pastillas

Brembo, líder mundial en frenos, amplía su oferta con una gama completa de pastillas de altas prestaciones, que son el resultado de una tecnología de vanguardia dirigida a mejorar la seguridad de todo el sistema de frenado. Con una amplia variedad de compuestos, sinterizados o carbocerámicos, y un elevado número de códigos de producto, Brembo satisface las exigencias específicas de todo tipo de moto –competición, carretera, ciudad, off-road– y las expectativas de cualquier piloto. Los compuestos que suelen utilizarse en los sistemas de frenado pueden agruparse en dos familias, ORGÁNICOS Y SINTERIZADOS y la elección de un tipo u otro no depende de su modalidad de uso; de hecho, existen distintos tipos de pastillas de freno para un mismo segmento de usuarios.

Materiales sinterizados
Están compuestos por polvos metálicos, a los que se agregan lubricantes y abrasivos aglomerados mediante un proceso de presión a altas temperaturas. El compuesto se adhiere al soporte metálico, en función de la forma deseada, durante el proceso de sinterización sin necesidad de añadir ningún tipo de cola. Los polvos metálicos determinan la capacidad de frenado de la pastilla y su estabilidad a altas temperaturas; los lubricantes optimizan la estabilidad de frenada y los abrasivos mantienen limpios los discos.

Materiales Carbocerámicos
Están compuestos principalmente por resinas, metales, lubricantes y abrasivos. En este caso, el coeficiente de fricción está determinado por los metales y las resinas, mientras que los lubricantes y los abrasivos actúan como se ha descrito arriba para los compuestos sinterizados.

Elección del compuesto
Cada pastilla posee su propio segmento de aplicación. Este depende de las distintas situaciones a las que se somete una pastilla de freno: Racing –privilegia frenadas a altas temperaturas, Carretera –elevada estabilidad, frenadas en frío y a temperaturas medias. Brembo tiene una respuesta para cada necesidad.

Rodaje
ES importantísimo para todos los compuestos y fundamental para el compuesto RC. Esta operación se realiza efectuando una serie de frenadas suaves, dejando pasar algo de tiempo entre una y otra. De esta manera se realiza un ciclo térmico correcto de calentamiento y refrigeración del sistema. El periodo de rodaje depende del tipo de compuesto: el rodaje de los compuestos orgánicos es más largo que el de los sinterizados.

Las prestaciones de los compuestos, tan distintos entre sí, se describen mediante los siguientes parámetros: Eficiencia (es decir, cuánto frena la pastilla): se expresa con el coeficiente de fricción medio y la estabilidad de la fricción con relación a las principales magnitudes que caracterizan la frenada (velocidad, desaceleración, temperatura). Se mide mediante ensayos realizados en el banco de pruebas y sobre el vehículo. Desgaste: se expresa en cantidad de material de fricción desgastado (mm de espesor o volumen) con respecto al número de frenadas efectuadas (banco) o de kilómetros recorridos (vehículo). Las diferencias funcionales entre los distintos compuestos se pueden ver en los gráficos relativos al coeficiente de fricción en función de la temperatura de servicio: el compuesto RC (orgánico Racing, página 16), donde una temperatura de 350 a 450 °C puede considerarse como condiciones normales de funcionamiento, posee un coeficiente de fricción en caliente muy alto, mientras los compuestos de carretera (como, por ejemplo, el SA sinterizado de carretera, página 18) han sido diseñados para ofrecer el máximo rendimiento a medias y bajas temperaturas, en especial, en torno a los 300 °C. Cuando éstos últimos se utilizan en carretera, sometiéndolos a un esfuerzo excesivo, se produce el denominado efecto "fading", es decir, el deterioro del coeficiente de fricción. De hecho, por encima de ciertas temperaturas, tienden a perder eficiencia. Por el contrario, si se utilizan los compuestos Racing en carretera (es decir, con discos fríos), se pierde adherencia y se alarga la frenada. Los compuestos intermedios son, naturalmente, un punto medio entre las situaciones descritas y ofrecen buenas prestaciones siempre que no se alcancen los límites del rango de temperatura de servicio.

NRS NUCAP RETENTION SYSTEM

I Il Sistema di ancoraggio NRS-Nucap è una tecnologia avanzata che permette di fissare meccanicamente il materiale di attrito della pastiglia alla piastrina. Tale tecnologia si basa sulla realizzazione di "uncini" sulla piastrina per permettere l'ancoraggio della mescola in modo robusto anche contro la corrosione, evitando inoltre l'utilizzo di collanti.

UK The NRS-Nucap anchoring system is an advanced technology allowing the friction material of the brake pad to be mechanically bound to the backing plate. This technology is based on the creation of "hooks" on the plate so the mixture can be firmly anchored, even resisting corrosion and avoiding the need for adhesives.

F Le système d'ancrage NRS-Nucap est une technologie avancée qui permet de fixer mécaniquement le matériau de friction de la plaquette sur la platine. Cette technologie est basée sur la création de « crochets » sur la platine qui permettent d'ancrer le composé de manière robuste, même contre la corrosion, tout en évitant l'utilisation d'adhésifs.

D Das NRS Nucap Retention System ist eine moderne Materialverbindungstechnologie, bei der das Reibmaterial des Bremsbelags mechanisch an der Trägerplatte befestigt wird. Diese Technologie basiert auf der Bildung von „Haken" auf der Platte, die eine robuste und korrosionsbeständige Verankerung der Mischung ohne den Einsatz von Klebstoffen ermöglichen.

E El sistema de retención NRS NUCAP es una tecnología avanzada de unión de materiales de fricción que se basa en una matriz de ganchos de acero que sobresalen del material de la placa de soporte de acero. Los ganchos del NRS se integran en el material de fricción de manera que crean una unión mecánica indestructible y anticorrosión sin usar adhesivo alguno.

GREENANCE BRAKE PADS

I Verso un futuro più sostenibile.

Le pastiglie Greenance, il cui nome deriva dall'unione delle parole "GREEN" e "PERFORMANCE", sono una soluzione che anticipa le esigenze di basso impatto ambientale, rispondendo alle aspettative dei clienti e alla volontà di contribuire a un ambiente sostenibile, senza compromettere le massime prestazioni di frenata.

La nuova mescola Greenance soddisfa i requisiti più severi in merito al contenuto di rame, amianto e altri metalli pesanti e va a sostituire la gamma di pastiglie per uso Scooter, Road, Genuine e Off-road (ad eccezione della mescola SX).

Le pastiglie Brembo Greenance garantiscono elevate prestazioni in tutte le condizioni di utilizzo - anche in situazioni di surriscaldamento - assicurando ai motociclisti un'esperienza di frenata costante.

UK Towards a more sustainable future.

Greenance brake pads, whose name derives from the words "GREEN" and "PERFORMANCE", are a solution that pre-empts the need for low environmental impact, satisfying customers' expectations and the desire to help create a sustainable environment without renouncing top braking performance.

The new Greenance mixture meets the strictest requisites with regards the use of copper, asbestos and other heavy metals, and replaces the range of pads for Scooter, Road, Genuine and Off-road use (apart from the SX mixture).

Brembo Greenance brake pads guarantee top performance in all conditions (even with overheating), ensuring constant braking action for riders.

F Vers un avenir plus durable.

Les plaquettes Greenance, dont le nom provient de la combinaison des mots « GREEN » et « PERFORMANCE », sont une solution qui anticipe le besoin d'un faible impact environnemental, répondant aux attentes des clients et au désir de contribuer à un environnement durable, sans compromettre les performances maximales de freinage.

Le nouveau matériau de friction Greenance répond aux exigences les plus strictes en matière de teneur en cuivre, amiante et autres métaux lourds et remplace la gamme de plaquettes pour scooters, routes, véhicules d'origine et tout-terrain (à l'exception du matériau de friction SX).

Les plaquettes Brembo Greenance garantissent des performances élevées dans toutes les conditions d'utilisation - même en cas de surchauffe - et assurent aux pilotes une expérience de freinage constante.

D Für eine nachhaltigere Zukunft.

Greenance-Bremsbeläge, deren Name sich aus den Wörtern „GREEN" und „PERFORMANCE" zusammensetzt, antizipieren die Notwendigkeit der geringen Umweltbelastung und entsprechen so den Erwartungen und Wünschen der Kunden, einen Beitrag zu einer nachhaltigen Umwelt zu leisten, ohne die maximale Bremsleistung zu beeinträchtigen.

Die neue Greenance-Mischung erfüllt die strengsten Anforderungen in Bezug auf den Gehalt an Kupfer, Asbest und anderen Schwermetallen und wird die Palette der Bremsbeläge für Scooter, Road, Genuine und Off-Road (mit Ausnahme der SX-Mischung) ersetzen.

Die Brembo Greenance-Bremsbeläge garantieren ausgezeichnete Leistungen unter allen Einsatzbedingungen – auch bei Überhitzung – und bieten dem Fahrer ein konstantes Bremserlebnis.

Hacia un futuro más sostenible.

RACING COMPOUND

I RC – SR

Queste pastiglie sono state studiate per garantire ai loro utilizzatori prestazioni eccezionali. Le principali caratteristiche di questo tipo di materiali sono l'elevato attrito e la costanza di rendimento soprattutto con temperature del disco elevate. Tali caratteristiche garantiscono una frenata eccellente e uniforme per l'intera durata della competizione, rendendo meno probabile il manifestarsi dell'effetto fading. Per tale motivo l'efficienza alle basse temperature assume un'importanza inferiore.

- RC: mescola solo uso pista. Vera pastiglia racing indicata per qualsiasi tipo di competizione su pista. Eccellente coefficiente d'attrito a caldo e soprattutto eccezionale stabilità alle alte temperature in grado di mantenere la frenata costante dal primo all'ultimo giro.
- SR: mescola sinterizzata per uso pista/strada, con coefficiente d'attrito stabile. Nonostante sia utilizzabile in entrambi gli ambiti mostra elevate prestazioni ad alte temperature e decelerazioni tipiche fasi dell'utilizzo racing.

UK RC – SR

These brake pads are designed to guarantee outstanding performance. The main characteristics of this type of material are the high degree of friction and the constancy of the results, especially with high disc temperatures. These aspects ensure excellent, consistent braking throughout the whole competition, making any fading effect unlikely. For this reason, good efficiency at low temperatures is less important.

- RC: mixture for track use only. A real racing pad, recommended for any type of track competition. Excellent hot friction coefficient but, above all, exceptional stability at high temperatures to maintain constant braking results from the first lap to the last.
- SR: sintered mixture for track/road use, with a stable friction coefficient. Although it can be used in both contexts, it gives its best performance at high temperatures and during deceleration - the typical features of racing use.

F RC – SR

Ces plaquettes sont conçues pour offrir à leurs utilisateurs des performances exceptionnelles. Les principales caractéristiques de ce type de matériau sont une friction élevée et des performances constantes, en particulier à des températures de disque élevées. Ces caractéristiques garantissent un freinage excellent et uniforme pendant toute la durée de la compétition, ce qui réduit l'effet de fading. Pour cette raison, l'efficacité à basse température devient moins importante.

- RC : matériau de friction réservé à la piste. Véritable plaquette Racing adaptée à tous les types de compétition sur piste. Excellent coefficient de frottement à chaud et, surtout, stabilité exceptionnelle à haute température permettant de maintenir un freinage constant du premier au dernier tour.
- SR : matériau fritté pour utilisation sur piste/route, avec un coefficient de frottement stable. Bien qu'il puisse être utilisé dans les deux domaines, il présente des performances élevées aux températures élevées et aux décélérations typiques de l'utilisation sur piste.

Racing - RC

D RC – SR

Diese Brembo Bremsbeläge wurden entwickelt, um Fahrern außerordentlich hohe Bremsleistungen zu bieten. Die Hauptvorzüge dieser Mischung sind der hohe Reibwert und die Bremsstabilität vor allem bei heißen Bremsscheiben. Diese Eigenschaften gewährleisten eine exzellente und gleichmäßig hohe Bremsleistung für die gesamte Racing-Dauer, wodurch das Auftreten des Fading-Effekts weniger wahrscheinlich ist. Gegenüber dieser Anforderung tritt die Bedeutung der Bremswirkung bei niedrigen Temperaturen in den Hintergrund.

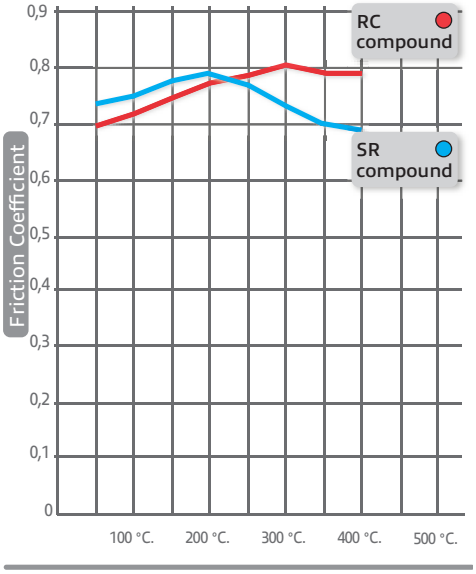
- RC: Mischung ausschließlich für den Racing-Einsatz. Reiner Racing-Belag, ideal für alle Arten von Wettrennen. Exzellenter Reibbeiwert bei warmgebremsten Bremsscheiben und vor allem hervorragende Bremsstabilität bei hohen Betriebstemperaturen garantieren konstante Bremsleistungen über die gesamte Renndistanz.
- SR: Sintermischung für Racing/Road-Einsatz mit stabilem Reibbeiwert. Wenngleich in beiden Bereichen einsetzbar, zeigt die Mischung hervorragende Leistungen bei hohen Temperaturen und bei den typischen Verzögerungsphasen im Racing-Einsatz.

RACING



E RC – SR

Estas pastillas han sido estudiadas para garantizar prestaciones excepcionales a sus usuarios. Las principales características de este tipo de material son su alta fricción y su rendimiento constante, especialmente cuando el disco alcanza temperaturas elevadas. Estas características garantizan una frenada excelente y uniforme durante toda la carrera, reduciendo el riesgo de fading. Por ello, la eficiencia a baja temperatura es menos importante.

- RC: compuesto exclusivo para circuitos. Es una auténtica pastilla racing adecuada para todo tipo de competiciones en circuito. Excelente coeficiente de fricción en caliente y, sobre todo, excepcional estabilidad a altas temperaturas, lo que permite mantener una frenada constante desde la primera hasta la última vuelta.
- SR: compuesto sinterizado para uso tanto en circuito como en carretera, con un elevado coeficiente de fricción en caliente. Material muy estable en cualquier condición de uso. Su buen coeficiente de fricción en frío permite utilizar este material también en carretera.
